Help to enrich a life

The sky is the limit !

Dear Student Friends,

There are moments in life when our mind is full of mixed emotions, like an ocean, some we can express and others we are unable to express. We can articulate our emotions on the strength of our words, but our unexpressed emotions are beyond words and can only be experienced. Today, is one such situation of an unexpressed emotion, the joy of communicating with you for the first time through Dynan Yadnya.

Friends, the world fought the COVID Pandemic from the end of academic year of 2019-20, up to more than half of the academic year 2021-22. Humanity is victorious in this struggle. SD-SEED supported students during this period, we have learnt new lessons and reached the next level in our learnings. The situation is now calm and our future is in our hands. Sadguru Wamanrao Pai has said "You are the sculptor of your life" and accordingly you have to work hard for success. Does society contribute to your struggle? Yes of course, every element of society is responsible to provide you with the most comprehensive guidance, support and assistance. This sense of social commitment has inspired SD-SEED implement a new concept.

SD-SEED provides financial aid, career counselling, etc. and has now launched its 'Mentorship Program', which will guide students in all facets of life. Under this scheme a Mentor will mentor 5 to 7 students, by providing emotional support and comprehensive guidance. This will help students to overcome hurdles they may face and be successful.

Friends, all of us would like to be successful and reach for the stars. But, the main question is how can we achieve this success? What do we need to do and in which area? To achieve this success, touch the sky in addition to hard work and studying, you also need to develop your personality, like the 'sky', which embraces the horizon and all inside it. You have to include AKASH in your personality.

Attitude: Harvard University conducted a survey which found that when a person is successful, 85% is due to his Attitude and only 15% is due to his technical Knowledge.

Knowledge : acquisition of knowledge is possible only through proper education. But acquiring a degree is not everything. We also need to learn about acquiring skills and the strength to embody new possibilities.

Affiliation : we should always be committed to work for the benefit of humanity, nation and society,

Skills : Personality can be perfected by acquiring various professional, technical and communication skills and to achieve this it is important to inculcate the habit of studying regularly

Humanity : everything is lost, if we do not have human emotion. Our personality is nothing, without Humanity. Friends, your 3H should always be ready : Heart, Hand and Head. The door of your heart should always be open to accommodate good thoughts and show the way out to the bad thoughts. Your enemy should always reside in your heart.

Lastly, I would like to say that the foundation of your life should be built on the 4 pillars of Character, Knowledge, Positive Attitude and Humanity, so that no matter how high you climb the stair case of success, your foundation of life will be strong.

SD-SEED Successfully Launches its Career Counselling Program

Discover your career within you..

Students should discover their natural talents and skills. Counsellors should be able to make students aware of these talents and how they can make a career using these skills.

SD-SEED organised a Career Counselling Program to guide students to choose the right career, which was attended by approximately 305 Class 9 and 10 students.

In addition, SD-SEED has also organised 10 programs on Skill Development which has benefitted over 751 students.

Know yourself first and then Select your career

Which stream should I choose ? In which sector should I start my business or search a job or profession ? This is an important question faced by students, youth and parents. Parents suggest a path, friends choose a different path, if teachers are requested for their opinion they suggest a different stream, similarly relatives, well wishers, etc suggest yet another different path. We are also influenced by Social media and gossip. All these varied opinions affect our decisions and leave us confused. It is advisable to study in the same stream in which you plan to pursue a career. But the big question is how do you decide which career you should pursue? We can ask questions such as, which sector is currently in demand ? when we complete our education in 5 to 7 years, which field will be in demand ? How can we earn enough income to meet all our expenses, needs and dreams. Will the efforts of our parents be worthwhile? These are a few of the many questions students face today.

In my opinion, the search for your educational stream and career needs to take place within you, rather than in the outside world. Understanding oneself, knowing oneself and self study can be the true guide. How am I as a person ? what is the thing I love doing and I am passionate about ? For example, Lata Mangeshkar is immortalised because of her singing, Sachin Tendulkar is immortalised because of his cricket. Similarly like these two examples there are numerous other examples before us. If each person is able to recognise his or her own basic instincts, preferences, temperament and intuition, it will help them in accurately determining their educational stream and career.

Each person is perfect. Self realisation means that each person search and discover the area in which he is perfect. Today, students choose their educational stream and career according to parents' wishes and then for the rest of his life a 'abnormal' person compromises to live a normal life. This is dilemma of life.

We are born with an original nature and discovery of this nature is self-realisation and awareness, but we do not do it. We pursue what we do not have, we chase unfulfilled desires and unachievable avenues that society pushes us towards and all this leads to problems, misery in life.

Those who have not discovered their areas of interest are faced with choices, options, indecision and misery. Those who find the treasure of self-realisation become unique persons who can concentrate on their tasks and work untiringly.

It is said that if your hobby becomes your subject of study and further it becomes your business, it is the best. Each person is unique and their capability lies in different areas. If we understand our strengths from childhood, we can make tremendous progress in that area throughout our lives. This will reduce the confusion, frustration and anxiety that is common today. Hence the saying, 'Search Inward, reach outward.' Be aware of what is the scope and demand outside, but also understand what is it that you are enthusiastic about. It is important to find out what your mind will enjoy, so that you do not have stress or tension, only happiness. I wish all readers enjoy endless bliss and are always happy.

Leadership Skill

Leadership is the ability to guide a group of people or an organisation to achieve its goals and objectives. It is also the ability to motivate others to achieve their goals. Leadership is a human process of uniting a group, building team spirit and cohesively moving it towards its goal with excellence. Leadership guides people, inspires them, builds their confidence and provides motivation to work. The importance of good leadership

- ❖ Plays an important role in guiding a group or organisation to successfully achieve its goals and objectives
- ❖ This helps in people working voluntarily, effectively and efficiently.
- ❖ Good leadership helps group members to effectively communicate goals, visions and strategies
- ❖ It helps to clarify ideas about individual tasks and responsibilities
- ❖ Helps in building team spirit and unity
- ❖ It motivates everyone to do their best
- ❖ Good leadership helps to achieve dreams and goals come true

Essential elements for effective leadership skills

Confidence: Confidence is essential for effective leadership. A confident leader can persuade people to follow him willingly.

Transparency: a good leader brings transparency in all his actions. This can be achieved through effective communication, sound judgement, healthy debate and inclusiveness.

Communication skill: effective leadership has good communication skills and motivates members to pursue team goals competently. They can easily connect their group members.

Making good decisions : good leaders always examine the pros and cons of an issue before taking a decision. Once a decision is made, they will not review or retract on it. Leaders are firm on the decisions they take.

Honesty and integrity: the key to effective leadership is honesty. Leaders hold themselves accountable for their mistakes and do not blame others. They always want to learn from their failures. They find out the reason of failure and try to minimise these reason in future.

Self awareness: an effective leader is always aware of his strengths and weaknesses. He uses his skills wisely and works on his weaknesses. Leaders are never ashamed to ask for help to overcome their weaknesses.

Team building: an effective leader is a team builder, who is aware that a group works best if its members have different personalities and styles which helps to enhance the perspective of the group.

Vision : a leader can work effectively with a vision. The leader must work from a broad perspective, be creative, innovative, passionate for his work and be able to think out of the box.

Tips for effective leadership

- ❖ Be realistic
- ❖ Understand and use your strengths
- ❖ Find your shortcomings and work on them
- ❖ Prioritize the group before yourself
- ❖ Be transparent in all your dealing
- ❖ Emphasise perfection
- ❖ Celebrate success
- ❖ Find out the reason for failure
- ❖ Finish your tasks on time
- ❖ Do not leave any tasks incomplete

Confidently overcome Inferiority Complex

Friends, often people consider us useless or incompetent, since we have not achieved much in life. We should learn how to overcome this feeling and maintain proper mental health.

People at some point in life have felt they are worthless or useless. In such a situation there are two options, first option is to firmly face the problem and the second option is to give up on the problem and get frustrated.

You can get rid of such feelings by adopting some simple and invaluable methods. This article will cover some of these psychological methods which we are sure will help you get rid of the feeling of uselessness.

1. Speak to yourself

Talking to yourself means understanding yourself. Primarily a person needs to know his temperament, behaviour, emotions and preferences. He also needs to know and understand the reason for his negative thoughts. Self knowledge will help us to discover new things within ourselves and feel less in

2. Don't dwell on the past, but make your tomorrow brighter

When a person is feeling sad, he tends to think about times in which he has performed his worst. But Instead he should think of beautiful future which lies ahead. These positive thoughts and plans for the future can help in changing a negative mindset to positive and also bring happiness in the person's life.

3. Take help from people

When you are faced with a situation, or when you feel you are not good at a particular task, you should take help of friends, family, etc. you should try to understand your strengths and weaknesses with their help. In such situation you should work on your strengths and over come your faults.

4. Do not compare yourselves with others

Some people have a habit of comparing themselves to others, which creates a feeling worthlessness. Each individual is different and their desires are also different so stop comparing yourself to others. Instead of comparisons, set and focus on your goals.

5. Inspirational thoughts and books will come handy

You should read stories of great men, who have not only sacrificed their lives for our country but also sacrificed their desires. These inspirational stories will increase your self Confidence and remove the inferiority complex you may have. You will learn now to live not only for yourself but for other.

So friends, it is wrong for us to think negatively and underestimate ourselves. It weaken a person's self confidence and also has an adverse effect on his personality. In such situations, it is necessary to cultivate good thoughts, do some good deeds and experience the flow of positive energy.

TESTIMONIALS

Asha Ravindra Mahajan, Erandol B. A. (First Year)

When calamities befall us and we face struggles, God sends some to help us through these difficult times. One such living example is Hon. Shri Suresh Dada Jain. I lost my parents when I was young. I stayed in the village with my grandfather and financed my education by working in the fields. I was keen to continue my higher education but our financial situation was weak. It was at time that I was awarded the Scholarship which showed me the path to achieve my educational goals. The Scholarship has motivated me to continue my studies and helped me overcome financial difficulties. Hon. Dada has come to me as my father whom I lost. I pray that Dada is blessed with a long life.

Pradhuman Ravindra Kitukale Jalgaon B E Computer (Second Year)

It gives me great pleasure to share with you that I am recipient of SD-SEED Scholarship for the last four years. My father is a construction worker and we were financially challenged. I was sceptical if my dream of becoming an engineer would become a reality. But now with the help of SD-SEED, which has been started with the vision of Hon Suresh Dada Jain, I am confident of becoming a good engineer. This beneficial and noble scheme started by Hon Suresh Dada Jain is incomparable with any other scheme. I hope that Dada will continue to support thousands of other students. I pray that Dada is blessed with a long and healthy life.

Rajeshree Sanjay Tayade Jalgaon B. Com (First year)

Our family's financial condition is normal. My father passed away when I was a child. Our family survives on whatever my mother's income. In addition, my graduation studies were in progress, which are very expensive. Under these circumstances, I was granted the SD-SEED Scholarship, which was a great financial support to help me continue my studies. The Scholarship motivates students to continue their studies and achieve their goals. I would like to request Dada to continue this noble scheme which helps in keeping the flame of education burning bright. I pray that Hon Dada will continue to support students through this Scheme.

Bhavesh Vasudev Ahire Pachora SYJC (Science)

My father has a small Saloon and our family's financial situation was normal. I wanted to make a career in the defence services and took admission in Aurangabad. It was at this time I was selected for the SD-SEED Scholarship, and have been a recipient for the last two years. This has helped me to pay college fees. SD-SEED has given me new direction and it has also supported my dreams to become a reality. I am now confident that that I will be able to compete in this competitive world, irrespective of my finances. My deepest gratitude to Hon Suresh Dada Jain and SD-SEED for giving my life a new and positive direction
